Considerations on the injustice and impolicy of punishing murder by death. Extracted from the American museum. With additions Benjamin Rush

"III. The punishment of murder by death, is contrary to divine revelation. A religion which commands us to forgive and even to do good to our enemies, can never authorise the punishment of murder by death.

"Vengeance is mine," said the Lord; "I will repay." It is to no purpose to say here, that this vengeance is taken out of the hands of an individual, and directed against the criminal by the hand of government. It is equally an usurpation of the prerogative of heaven, whether it be inflicted by a single person, or by a whole community."

This is an edition of a classical book first published in the eighteenth century.
